
WCC Won Award for Technology Innovation in National Construction Materials Industry

The key technology for oil well of high performance class G HSR oil well cement won the second prize of 2018 technology innovation in construction materials industry, which organized by China Construction Materials Federation and National Committee of China Machinery Metallurgical Building Materials Trade Union.

WCC successfully produce high performance class G HSR oil well cement by systematic modification for vertical mill technology, this oil well cement has essential function for promoting petroleum and gas exploration, it has been widely use in Chang Qing cementing company and Western drilling and cementing company, it utterly meet their requirement and get good feedback.