

This year, Shaanxi Province is still in the upsurge of infrastructure construction. The province plans to invest 50 billion Yuan in the sectors, such as roads, railways, airports, and irrigation works.

The director of Shaanxi Province Development and Reform Commission, Mr. Li Xiaodong, explained that in 2007 the province would invest 30 billion Yuan in road construction, and newly open 400 kilometers highway, to realize total 2000 kilometers highway in the province.

Meanwhile, 16 billion Yuan will be invested in railway and airport construction, and 4 billion Yuan for irrigation works.

cementchina.net (2007-2-26)