

RMB 8.15 billion will be invested on 34 key water conservancy projects in Xinjiang in 2015

According to news from Xinjiang Development and Reform Commission, RMB 8.15 billion will be invested on 34 key water conservancy projects in 2015, of which RMB6.15 billion will be invested to 26 projects under construction and RMB 2 billion to 8 new projects.

Projects under construction include Carla Bailey water conservancy engineering, Altash water control project and Jiyin reservoir, etc. New projects include Dashimen water conservancy project and Yarkant River flood control project, etc.

Mr. Zhang Chunxian, Director of Xinjiang Development and Reform Commission, said that Xinjiang will strive for investment above RMB 5 billion from Central Government on these 34 projects.

(Source from Digital cement)